

UK tests defence supply chains under war conditions in major exercise

Major wargame exercise brings together leading defence companies to test supply chain resilience under wartime pressure.