

UK to secure critical minerals boosting economic resilience and cutting reliance on imports

Households and businesses are set to benefit from stronger, more secure supply chains as the UK invests £50 million in critical minerals projects.