

Interim Permanent Secretary for Department of Health announced

A former senior leader in the NHS in England will take up the role of interim Permanent Secretary of the Department of Health in April.

Advocacy service empowers victims of sexual and domestic abuse: Long

The Department of Justice has announced the provider of an advocacy service for victims of sexual and domestic abuse.

Kimmins outlines plans to tackle wastewater infrastructure

Funding, innovative thinking and working in partnership hold the key to delivering a better water and wastewater infrastructure to meet the needs of our growing population, Infrastructure Minister Liz Kimmins has said.

Landmark RegTech report highlights scale of opportunities for the north – Archibald

A landmark report into the RegTech sector highlights the scale of the commercial opportunities for local companies, Economy Minister Dr Caoimhe Archibald said today.

Working together we can end domestic abuse – O’Dowd

Finance Minister John O’Dowd has pledged his support to the Onus Safe Place Campaign: never to commit, condone or stay silent about domestic violence or abuse.