

First regional dementia awareness training announced

A dementia awareness elearning programme is now available for all Health & Social Care staff across Northern Ireland.

Givan launches applications for Research-Informed Conferences

Education Minister Paul Givan, has today launched a new call for applications from schools across Northern Ireland to host Research-Informed Conferences during the 2026-27 academic year.

Archibald outlines what Good Jobs Bill means for employers, families and society

Economy Minister Dr Caoimhe Archibald today met with stakeholders to outline what the Good Jobs Bill means for employers, families and society.

Kimmins calls for safe travel to the Ulster Senior Football Championship

Infrastructure Minister Liz Kimmins is urging all spectators travelling to and from the Ulster Senior Football Championship final in Clones to take care on the roads and have a safe journey.

Archibald launches consultation on new regulatory framework for 'heat beneath our feet'

Economy Minister Dr Caoimhe Archibald has launched a public consultation on proposals to introduce a new regulatory framework for geothermal energy in Northern Ireland.