

UK's heating oil households need stronger protections, says CMA

CMA recommends UK and devolved governments strengthen protections for the 1.5 million households reliant on heating oil.