Up to £75,000 available for UK space technology projects

Government grants worth up to £75,000 are available to the UK space sector to develop new commercial technologies and bring them closer to market.