

Using neuroscience to sharpen RAF warfighting readiness

A Dstl project has revolutionised training delivery across the Royal Air Force, strengthening Britain's air combat capability and operational readiness.