The Under Secretary for Labour and Welfare, Mr Ho Kai-ming, today (March 6) promoted Hong Kong's distinctive advantages of enjoying strong support of the motherland and being closely connected to the world in his appeal to talent to make the move to Hong Kong on his visit to Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

Mr Ho, accompanied by an officer of Hong Kong Talent Engage (HKTE), first attended a campus job fair in Universiti Malaya this morning and had exchanges with employers from various industries as well as recruitment portal representatives. In addition, Mr Ho hosted a recruitment talk to introduce to university students the development trends of different professions in Hong Kong, the outside talent needed and various talent admission schemes. Universiti Malaya is an eligible university under the Top Talent Pass Scheme. He urged students in Malaysia to explore opportunities and develop their careers in Hong Kong.

Accompanied by the Director-General of the Hong Kong Economic and Trade Office, Jakarta, Miss Libera Cheng, Mr Ho then called on the Vice-Chancellor of Universiti Malaya, Professor Noor Azuan Abu Osman, at a lunch gathering to learn more about the development opportunities of Malaysia in the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN). They exchanged views on the recruitment and nurture of as well as support for talent, and explored directions of deepening talent exchange and collaboration between the two places.

Mr Ho attended similar events of Huazhong University of Science and Technology and National University of Singapore in August 2023 and the Chinese University of Hong Kong, Shenzhen in November 2023. HKTE will continue to collaborate with Dedicated Teams for Attracting Businesses and Talents in the Mainland Offices and overseas Economic and Trade Offices to proactively reach out to and recruit talent through key Mainland and overseas job fairs, and provide one-stop support for the long-term settlement of talent arriving in Hong Kong.

In the afternoon, Mr Ho visited the "Immersive Hong Kong" roving exhibition held by the Information Services Department in Kuala Lumpur. Apart from immersing himself in exhibition zones presenting the appeal of Hong Kong by interactive art technology, Mr Ho also toured the information panels displayed on site covering insights from ASEAN talent about their experiences in Hong Kong. He encouraged visitors of the exhibition to visit, work, live or invest in Hong Kong as its theme suggests – "Hong Kong – Where the World Looks Ahead". The exhibition is set to run at Centre Court, Level 2, Pavilion Bukit Jalil until March 10.
