

Vulnerable people given greater access to social housing

New changes to remove local connection rules for young care leavers and victims of domestic abuse to access social housing.