

Walking in the archive

Cheryl Tipp, Curator of Wildlife & Environmental Sounds writes: As you might expect, our wildlife collection is brimming with the sounds of animals communicating with each other. From songs and calls to bill snaps and tail quivers, this assortment of messages provides a rich overview of the types of conversations...