

Welfare bill will protect the most vulnerable and help households with income boost

Additional protections for millions of vulnerable people on benefits are set to be written into law, under new measures being introduced to Parliament today [18 June 2025].