

Why the Tory government must change course on the economy

Scotland's economy has underlying strengths: employment is at a record high, unemployment is at record low levels, exports are going up faster than the UK and Scotland is the top destination for foreign direct investment in the UK, outside London.

Go to Source

Author: