

Yorkshire companies to pay hundreds of thousands after incidents

Following investigations by the Environment Agency, four Yorkshire companies will pay almost £470,000 after they breached environmental permits.