

Young people encouraged to Reach for the Sky as government announces £750,000 to create the next generation of aviators

Funding ensures young people from all backgrounds can learn about the varied, highly skilled jobs and future opportunities in aviation across the UK.